Sudden Halt In Seizure Of Ships' Liquors

NEW YORK, June 23.—Liquor under seal of the Berengaria will be seized this afternoon as soon as Dr. Spreague has issued his certificate as to medical require-ments the collector announced, adding that this process would be followed with respect to all vessels bringing in liquor under seal. Removal of the seized liquor from the Baltic began shortly before two o'clock. The authorities indicted longshoremen to lift it with a crane and it was removed in trucks to a ware-house.

Only a few dozen cases had been taken off, however, when the removal was stopped by telephonic instructions from Dr. Spreague. Dry officers, up in the air in the latest turn of events, said they were awaiting Dr. Spreague's arrival before they proceeded further.

Schoolboard Chairman Explains In Detail His Views On School Bonds

Claiming that he was opposed to the issue of school bonds from the inception of the plan, declaring in favor of a "pay-as-you-go" plan and stating that "some people think that an American citizen has no right to vote unless he is a citizen," A. C. Conway, chairman of the city school board this afternoon issued his promised statement.

The statement appended hereto explains his attitude on the school bond issue. "Incidentally," he declares, "that he is in favor of giving Danville children ample educational advan-tages but that he is opposed lastly to levying a tax for non-essentials in our schools."

The first meeting of the School Bond Committee was held at the residence of Mrs. A. D. Keen, the committee at that meeting decided to advise the School Board to request the City Council to call an election for School Bonds. $250,000 was the amount the committee proposed. "I was present at this meeting and suggested that $250,000 was a larger amount than the committee should recommend. When the committee reported to the board and advised, requesting a bond issue of $250,000, there was much discussion and I suggested $500,000, and finally a motion was offered and adopted to fix the amount at $400,000. At this meeting I urged that the board should ask for bonds to provide for our pressing needs, and rely on the general tax fund of the city for the future. If conditions arise in the future making it unwise for the council to take money out of the general fund to use for building, I am for issuing more bonds to take care of the actual needs of the children in our educational system."

"I favor giving the children of Danville ample educational advantages, but am unalterably opposed to levying a tax on our people for non-essentials in our schools or any of the other city activities. If we increase the city tax rate we may drive enterprise and tax values from the city, and actually reduce the city income by the higher tax instead of increasing it."

"I understand that large stocks of tobacco are kept stored in Danville, and the city collects taxes on all tobacco stored in the city on February 1st. Make the city tax rate as high as other cities, and this income from tobacco will soon be greatly reduced, and remember the tax is lost upon every enterprise that is driven from the city. Let us consider well before we increase our tax rates; think what may be lost on tobacco and enterprises which may be driven away, and what Danville might gain from new industries which should be induced to locate in our city. Let us manage all of Danville's business affairs in a sane manner and we will flourish in a sane manner and we will flourish in a sane manner and we will flourish in a sane manner."

At the board meeting the first Thursday in June, the Chairman of the publicity committee stated that the board had formally authorized the committee to spend as much as $100 in the bond campaign, and requested another appropriation. The

Bond Attorneys Hold Issure Invalid

Construction of Charter
Amendment by a Well Known Concern Identical
With City Attorney's—
Judge to Decide on Tuesday.

The New York firm of bond attorneys which has handled Danville bond matters for years has taken a stand on the school and sewer bond issue question voted on last Tuesday identical with that of City Attorney A. M. Aiken, it was learned today. The firm, Meade, Dougherty and Hoyt, was communicated with a few days ago to which the city attorney inquired of Mr. Hoyt the language of the amended charter with the figures in the action and asked for his opinion. Mr. Hoyt said that he would disapprove bonds issued under such circumstances.

This was stated as meaning today that the Danville bond outcome is destined to find its way to the Virginia Court of Appeals for a final determination.

No further steps were taken today towards the first definite judicial decision on the bond issues which will be made by Judge Withers. Owing to the absence from the city at the present time of Julian Meade who has been retained by those opposed to the bond issue the "amicus curi" proceedings will not be held until Monday or Tuesday. Judge Withers has deferred hearing the arguments by opposing attorneys as "friends of the court" until Tuesday and it was intimated today his decision would be made sometime during the course of that day. Judge Withers will not hold the matter open later than Tuesday. Possibly Mr. Meade will be back in Danville by Monday or in time for his views to be heard in which event the court's decision may be expedited. Judge Withers was busy again today combing the records for additional light on the question.

It is interesting to observe that the original charter of Danville issued in 1830 and approved by the legislature contained language quite different on bond issue majorities. The original charter says "provided that the stipulation shall have been first submitted to the qualified voters of the said city and three-fourths of the legal voters of the city and a majority of the registered freeholders thereof voting shall have approved the same."

The charter has been amended five times and the language of chapter 8 first underwent a change in 1900 when the majority for bond issues was made two-thirds which two-thirds of the legal voters of the city qualified registered voters owning real estate in the city.

Malcolm K. Harris, who was asked by the school board to prepare an opinion on the present case, yesterday sent the following letter to Mrs. A. D. Keen, member of the board who requested his opinion:

Mrs. A. D. Keen,
Danville School Board,
Danville, Virginia.

3 NEGRO HOUSES BURNED DOWN

Three negro houses were burned to the ground last night on Poorhouse Hill and one was saved from destruction only by the strenuous efforts of a bucket brigade consisting of residents of that section.

The homes of Paul Harris, Annie Cole and John Sole were completely destroyed, only the furnishings being saved. The home of Maude Matthews was saved through the efforts of his neighbors. They formed a bucket brigade that stretched from the banks of the branch to the houses. One negro, Walter Hampton, sat astride the roof of the threatened house and poured buckets of water on the roof and sides as fast as they were handed to him. And, according to information received last night the bucket brigade did good work, dipping water out of the branch so fast that little flowed below where it was being taken.

Fire Chief Mitchell went to the fire but the local fire department was unable to render any assistance as the burning houses were far beyond the fire mains of the city.

FRED G. HOLLIMAN DIES

Fred G. Holliman, 47 years of age, died at 11:45 o'clock last night at General hospital, following an operation Thursday for appendicitis. Little hope was entertained for his recovery after the operation when it was ascertained his condition was serious.

The body, accompanied by the widow and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Link, left here early this morning for Beaver Springs, Pa., where interment will be made Sunday.

Mr. Holliman was born in Sweden, but has lived for many years in this country. He has resided in Danville for five years and has been connected with the Vesta Batteries Co. He was a member of the Lutheran church and of the Masonic fraternity.

—Little Miss Evelyn Blackwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Blackwell, is visiting at Peiham and Rutland.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WORK

Gained Strength, Weight and Now Doing Own Work, by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Marion, Ind.—"I was all run-down, nervous and bent over. I could hardly drag around, let alone do my work. I read some letters in the papers telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and I thought I would try it. Then a man told my husband about his wife and what good it had done her and I wanted him to have me try it. I took one bottle and could see what it did for me in a week's time, and when I had taken three bottles I had gained both in strength and weight and was doing my own work. I took it before my last baby was born and it helped me so much. I sure am glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who suffers from female ailments, for I know by experience what it can do. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound also. The Liver Pills, too, and think them fine."—Mrs. W. M. ELSTON, 620 E. Grant Street, Marion, Indiana.

A record of nearly fifty years service should convince you of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Counsel Thinks Bond Issue Was Legally Carried

that the School Board and the Parent-Teacher Association should take such steps as are necessary to insist upon the bonds being issued.

Now that the official count has been made, the matter will be presented to Judge Withers of the Corporation Court, and it will be his duty under the law to issue a certificate to the council stating whether or not the bond issue has been legally carried.

We have requested Judge Withers on your behalf, to permit us to appear before him prior to the rendering of his decision so that we may present the case from your point of view. Judge Withers advises us that it will be agreeable to him to hear it tomorrow, Saturday morning, at 9:30 o'clock. In the meantime we have been advised that Mr. Julian Meade has been employed by some persons opposed to the bond issue and has requested that Judge Withers delay action until his return. Mr. Meade is expected back within the next day or two. It is, therefore, impossible to tell you at this writing exactly when the case will be presented to Judge Withers.

We have heard considerable discussion as to what effect the decision of the bonds will be. It is our opinion that this will not affect the price of the bonds in any wise, if they are sold. Municipal bonds are never sold except with the opinion of an expert bond attorney attached, as to their validity. There would be no sale for them at all without this opinion. If such questions as to the validity of the bonds and they would bring the regular market price. Without such an opinion the bonds could not be sold at all.

It is entirely possible that an expert bond attorney might be satisfied that the bonds were very probably that the bonds were valid, but, at the same time, he might be unwilling to give an absolute opinion as to their validity with even a small percentage of chance that they would be definitely settled by the decision of our Supreme Court. In fact it seems to us that such a decision is, in any event, desirable. As you well know other attorneys of this city, whose opinion is entitled to great weight, take the view that the bonds have not been legally voted. A public question of such material moment to the city ought not to be left in doubt.

We assume that, if Judge Withers should decide that the bond issue was legally carried, the opponents to the bonds would themselves test the matter in the Supreme Court, and should he hold that the election is not legally carried, we should advise our citizens to present the case to the Supreme Court for a final decision. As promptly as opportunity is offered we will present the case from your point of view to Judge Withers and, upon being advised of his decision, will be glad to confer with you further in connection with it.

For convenience, the interest of the School Board and the Parent-Teacher Association being the same, we have forwarded copy of this letter to Mrs. Gaver for the Parent-Teacher Association.

Harding Suffers From Sunburn; He Rests in His Room

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 22.—The president earlier in the afternoon had cancelled a schedule golf match on advice of his physicians. He spent the afternoon at the hotel resting while ice applications were made from time to time to his swollen lips.

Such an unpleasant result from sunburn is not uncommonly felt by Mr. Harding. Just before he left Washington he got a bad case of sunburn while playing golf and at that time his lips became somewhat swollen.

The presidential party arrived from St. Louis at 10 o'clock this morning and the automobile ride over Kansas City's boulevard system was made soon after, while the rays of the sun which set the temperature up to one of the highest points of the summer were heating down on the pavements. The president removed his hat after leaving the station and throughout an hour and a half ride remained uncovered.

The route of the parade was so arranged that a good portion of the population of the city saw and greeted the chief executive and first lady, the crowds lining the streets in the downtown section and through most of the district two and three deep. A thousand or more personally greeted the distinguished visitors upon their arrival at the hotel where a public reception was held.

The President and Mrs. Harding dined quietly in their hotel suite, both at luncheon and dinner with a few members of the reception committee and friends.

The president received several callers during the afternoon. Among them was Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, who will accompany the party to Hutchinson, Kansas, where Mr. Capper is to make his next prepared address on "the agricultural problem." Governor Arthur G. Hyde of Missouri, and Mrs. Hyde accompanied the party here and the president and Mrs. Harding received a letter from Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, Missouri, who is now in California, that was much appreciated.

"Let us express the hope that you will have a wonderful reception and a genuine trip from the people who are sincerely attached to you and who say you the high honor of the executive of this great nation and as a man and citizen," Senator Reed wrote. "Mrs. Reed joins me in extending her regrets, as well as her best wishes both to you and Mrs. Harding."

Mrs. Harding, in addition to visiting the veteran hospital gave instructions that many bouquets of flowers sent to her at the hotel be taken to the hospital.

Governor Hyde announced today he would investigate reported police Louie to newspapermen accompanying the chief executive. The governor's discourtesy shown yesterday in St. Intimated he was displeased with the action of a St. Louis police commissioner who is reported to have barred newspaper correspondents from the hall in which President Harding was to address the veterans.

President Harding today cancelled his proposed trip to Scope Park to present medals to some boy scouts and to the United States Veterans Hospital as a result of a severe case of sunburn contracted in a fifteen mile ride about Kansas City after his arrival earlier in the day.

The president had made the entire ride in a broiling sun uncovered, acknowledging the greeting of thousands who lined the streets. Mrs. Harding, protected by a large hat and parasol, suffered no ill-effects and in company with Secretary Weeks and Brigadier General Sawyer, motored to the park and to the hospital. Secretary Work acted for the president in presenting the medals.

The president's physician explained that the sunburn had caused a slight swelling of Mr. Harding's lips but added it was not serious and should not interfere with the delivery of his address here tonight.

PILLETTE'S SPEED DOESN'T PUZZLE

Herman Pillette, sensational recruit pitcher of the Detroit Tigers last season, is having his troubles winning this year.

Pillette's main stock in trade last year was a fast ball that broke down as it neared the batsman much after the manner of a spitball. The ball was started for the knee and just as it reached the plate would dip. This made for topping the ball, and in most games pitched by Pillette many weak grounders would be hit to the infield.

Opposing players noted that in a great many cases the delivery would have been low and ruled a ball. The umpire, if they let it go. It was also noticeable that when Pillette was forced to keep his fast ball well above the knee it lost much of its effectiveness.

This gossip relative to Pillette, coupled with his well known inability to field bunts, has made the going rather tough for him this season. He is being waited out, which results in many bases on balls. When forced to get them over, the opposing batters mix things up by taking a healthy cut or laying down a tantalizing bunt.

Gains Success Despite His Physical Handicap

(Special to The Bee.)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 23.—Handicapped by being crippled throughout his 52 years of life, starting with but a seventh-grade education, C. Lee Cook, of this city, has made millions of dollars by inventing devices that bring comfort to thousands, and educated himself until now he is an authority on English.

"Life's just what you make it," he muses. "A man takes from it, exactly what he puts in." Recently he refused a $40,000-a-year job. That's how good he is. He never has been able to walk. His hands he can lift no higher than his head. An invalid's chair carries him about.

But he did design and build a crocheting works at Brunswick, Ga. He is the intimate adviser of noted lawyers. And he is one of the very few private citizens ever given the privilege of the floor in the United States Senate.

"Measure of Service." Cook likes to talk of success, which his friends say, "is the measure of service to one's fellow man." And in speaking of success, Cook plays modern standards of pronouncing a man a success or failure according to the amount of money he has.

The world in its judgment never takes into consideration how the person ever accumulated his money or how he acquired his power. It simply looks at his bank roll. Such a standard is a mockery."

The world in its judgment never takes into consideration how the person ever accumulated his money or how he acquired his power. It simply looks at his bank roll. Such a standard is a mockery."

John Burroughs and Luther Burbank are true successes, he believes. "If Burbank were in business to raise dollar signs on trees he would long ago have ceased his botanical labors and would have taken up some more remunerative occupation."

Presidents of railroads and other corporations many times are reputed successes, he adds, but the history of their organizations shows one receivership after another.

Audience Laughed. When Cook was 24, he was asked

"Success is that accomplishment of man which makes society of the present a little more remote from the prehistoric stage."

The world in its judgment of success, simply looks at his bank roll.

Then he set to work to study English and now is an authority on it. Another of his accomplishments is law. His friends say he would have made Supreme Court justice. But he uses this knowledge only in his daily work. Cook began inventing things when a mere boy. Now he controls patents for many articles used on steamships. One of his most noted inventions is a pack which prevents escape of steam from engines. Many railroads have adopted it.

PROHIBITION REPEALED BY VOTERS OF MANITOBA, CANADA

(By The Associated Press) WINNIPEG, June 22.—Voters of Manitoba, adopted by popular vote today a system whereby intoxicating liquors will be sold by the government. Although complete returns had not been received Winnipeg gave the proposed a majority of 23,000 and scattered reports from all over the province indicated the measure was sure of passage. Heretofore liquor has been entirely prohibited.

Reports from 140 polls throughout the province showed a wet majority of 2,200. This included many small urban centers where prohibition advocates claimed their strongest vote. Delayed results from solid rural polls were expected to make the dry vote equal to that of the wet vote outside Winnipeg.

The vote was taken on the actual text of a bill submitted to the legislature by the moderation league. The bill provides for a commission of three to control the liquor system and to establish government stores for its sale in Winnipeg and in such other cities and towns as considered advisable. Residents and visitors over age would be sold annual permits at or permits at fifty cents for a single purchase. A permit would be exhibited at the time of purchase, but the liquor would be delivered and would not be taken from the government store by the purchaser.

CHAPLIN AND POLA NEGRI TO GET MARRIED

(By Chicago Tribune Service) NEW YORK, June 22.—Charlie Chaplin and Pola Negri are not to be married after all. From a reliable source in this city it was learned today that the king of film comedians and the queen of silent romances have broken their engagement. Another photoplay star, a French actor, so runs the tale seems in Miss Negri's heart.

Hollywood, according to this information, has just been set afire by the news that the temperamental Polish actress, whose name was linked with Chaplin's as soon as she was brought to this country to make pictures here had given back to Chaplin his superb engagement ring. The romance has come to an end. Chaplin is said to be philosophical about it.

Chaplin was reported engaged to Pola last spring, and it was known that they had told several film officials of her company that they would be married about the middle of April. After several denials Chaplin, when on a trip on January 27 to Del Monte, Cal. with the actress, finally acknowledged they were engaged, but indicated that the date of the marriage was indefinite.

RIGHT AND DUTY ARE NECESSARY

ST. LOUIS, June 22.—Rectitude and duty are the elements necessary for good citizens Arthur McMan, former premier of Canada and at present a member of the Canadian Parliament, asserted today in an address before the 14th annual convention of Rotary International in session here. "There are two elements of citizenship," he stated. "One is the claim of right or sense of rectitude. The other is the sense of duty or obligation. The failure of citizenship is the preponderance of the first over the second. The harmonizing of the two is the success of citizenship." Friendship and pluck are assets of citizenship, he added.

"Friendship is the first great asset of man," he said, "and in the words of Emerson, the only way to make friends is to be one. Pluck, the sort of pluck that insures a day's work every day." Guy Gundaker, of Philadelphia, was elected president, and Kufus Chapin of Chicago, was re-elected Treasurer. They were without opposition.

Danville Takes a Double-Header From The Patriots

Grandstand Gaff

Even if Danville's chances for winning the first half are slimmer than a human skeleton in a circus, they sure did get back the Patriots from the league lead by taking those two yesterday.

It is not necessary for anyone to see how Danville won. Anybody wishing to know could take a Ben Hur trip to the box score and find out.

Carroll's outfit made the most hits in the Patriots' safeties came in the game, but the Greensboro playing field, inside and outside. The team as a whole hit .333 in the first and second halves.

That fifth frame was frightful to the Patriots. A hit batsman, a sacrifice, a walk, five singles, one two-run homer and a credit total were responsible for nine runs.

Danny Overton made two of the runs and brought in two of the others. He drew a pass his first time up in the fifth and scored on the hits that followed him, then came up with two on and lambasted the ball over the fence.

Of the dozen hits in the first encounter, Trexler made four, letting his teammates to an even draw on the remaining eight. He secured one more in the night cap and closed himself among the 400 hitters, holding a grand average of .403.

"Lefty" Wilson was returned winner over "Deacon" Lankenau in the second game. The pitcher-keeper kept the half dozen safeties well-scattered.

Grady Dorman was the ufeat re- field, handling a total of 20 chances with only one bobble. His three put-outs and 10 assists in the first game bears witness to his remarkable performance. Besides, he tallied three runs in the first game and was the hitting star in the second.

The Christian Science Monitor has a story headed "The First Land Columbus Saw." Must have been Grover.

The big sport artists keep referring to "Rudolph's" come-back. Wonder how much "Hoie" they would plug up with "dope" about Rube Eldridge if they were acquainted with his history. He won, again yesterday, giving his club a little tighter grip on the lead.

With Dannielly missing from the line-up, having been traded to Toledo of the American Association, Dorman turned in a win over Raleigh.

Not to be unsportsmanlike about yesterday's two-bill it might be mentioned that Magrann, Patriot shortstop, made a double play unassisted. Also, Allison hit for the circuit in the second.

Danville boys, who want to see next Tuesday's game with Greensboro, should keep their eyes "peeled" for the next big-hearted fellow they see strolling down the street with the emblem on the lapel of his coat bearing the letter "K." The Kiwanians want to come in personal contact with the youngsters they take to the game. So, boys, all you have to do is to let one of them know you are under 16 and would like to see the game, and the rest will come just like the "lickin'" you get after slipping off to the swimming hole.

The report is out that Branch Rickey, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, thinks of selling or trading Rogers Hornsby. No reason is given for the proposed outlet, but some opine it is because Hornsby and the rest of the team don't work together to the best advantage. "Mebbe so," but we'll take a bet he is not given away.

The Yale crew swept to victory over the Harvard oarsmen yesterday in the grand regatta at New London, Conn. A victory that will be history. But the most worthwhile matter about the affair seems to be the Yale coach, the youthful Ed Leader, of the big west, "where a man is a man." Hereafter the big institutions have been importing English systems and mentors from our brethren over the sea, but in this instance an American with American ideas about his oarsmen and strokes came out on top over an old thinker with imported ideas, proving that we have most anything we want here in America if we'll just dig it up, even be it the ancient sport of rowing.

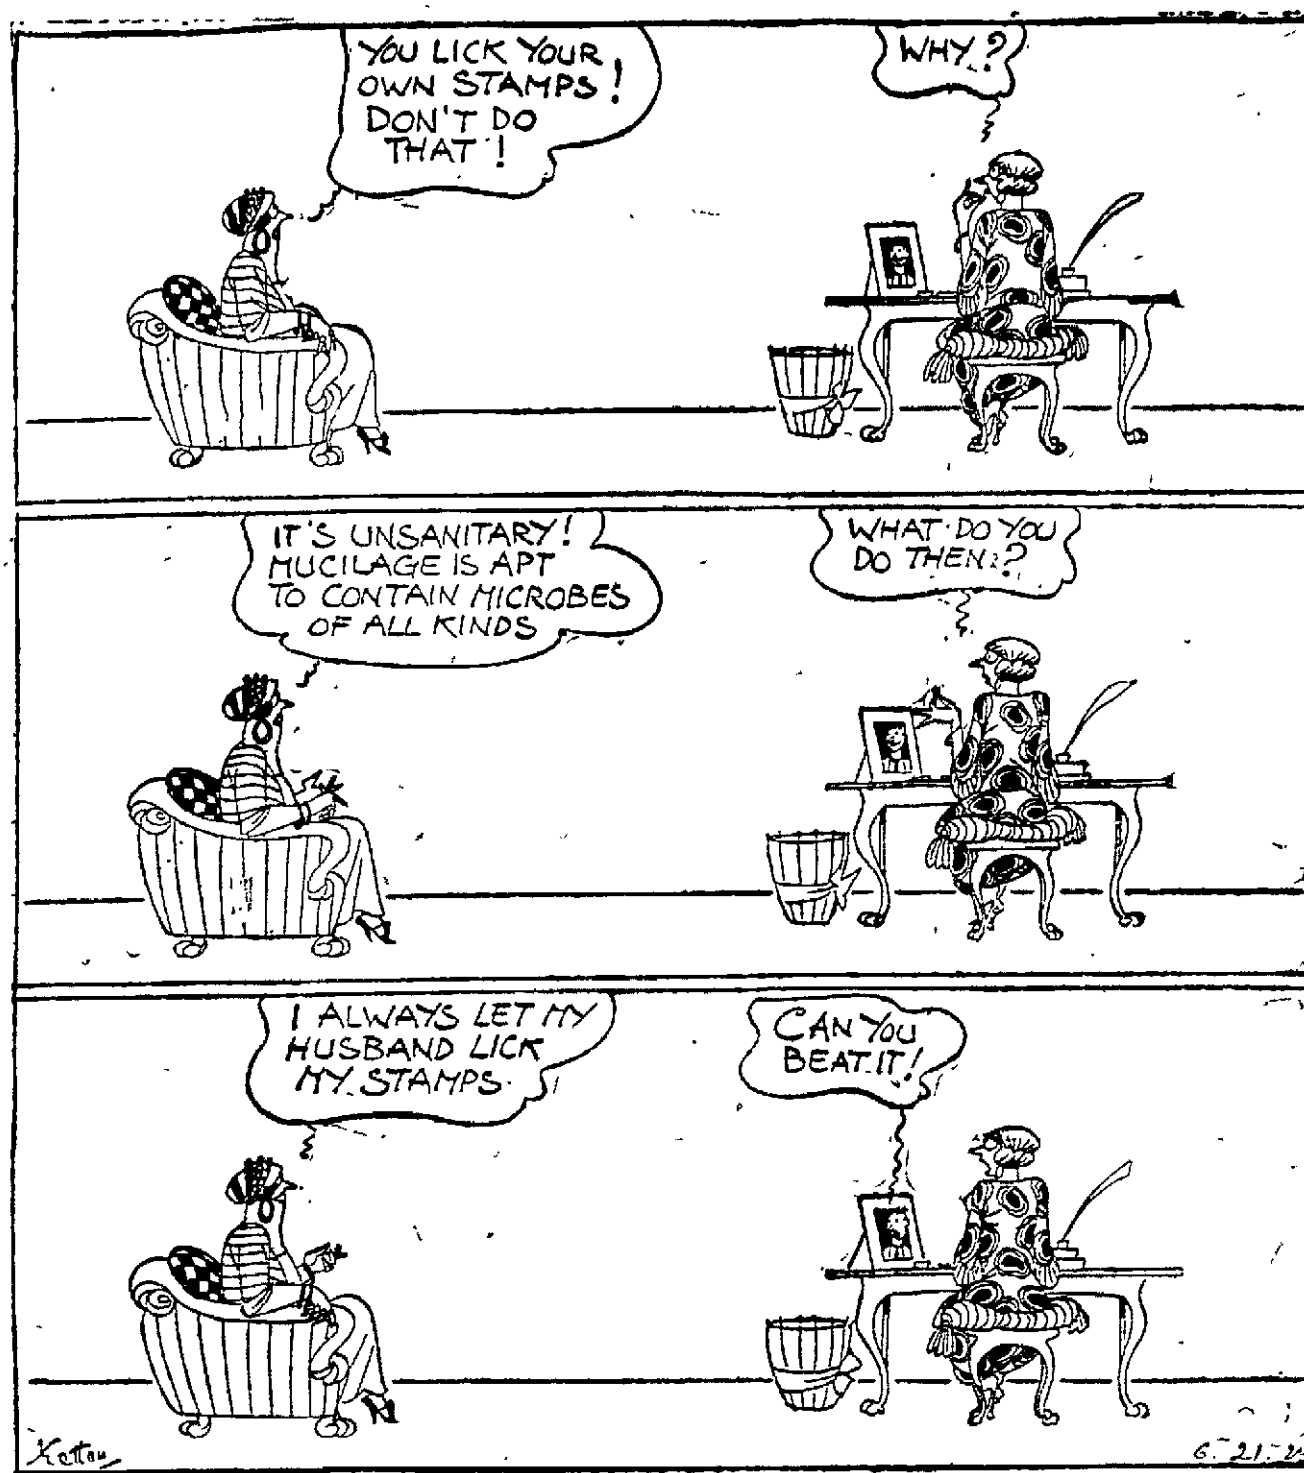

Now Tommy Gibbons friends come along with more publicity about how the challenger will fight the champion. It may all be publicity, but it will hit its mark over in the Dempsey camp, and, perchance, won't settle so well on someone's nerves.

"Rube" Eldridge, representing the fellows who are not as young as they "uster be", was not by himself in winning yesterday. Walter Johnson turned in a close game over "Slim" Harris of Philadelphia.

Get the date right, June 22, 1923. Danville made nine runs in one inning. Fans, who have been here since the Dan started flowing in its present direction, say it is a record for the club.

That boy McCulloch is about the classiest player at the keystone sack in this league, and he is also slammimg the ball. He's a speedster on the base-paths too, and with it all he is a youngster.

CAN YOU BEAT IT! Copyright, 1923, by The Evening World By Maurice Ketten

We have an idea Greensboro won't feel so cheerful when the blue-uniformed official yells "Play Ball" today.

High Point Took Piedmont Lead

WINSTON, June 22.—High Point took the league lead by defeating the Twins 6 to 2, in a game here this afternoon featured by many hits and little scoring.

The veteran "Rube" Eldridge and Hengehold, local porters, opposed each other on the mound and were about par, with the exception of Hengehold's wildness, his six bases on balls enabled the Pointers to pile up their score.

High Point scored two in the second, one in the fifth, two in the eighth and one in the ninth. The Twins' two tallies came in the fifth.

Fuhy playing short, while Faber covered the hot corner, was credited with the two errors of the game.

BOSTON, June 22.—Errors by Fewster and Quinn were prime factors in helping Shawkey pitch New York to a four to two victory over Boston today. Boston's two runs were the result of Plagstead's homer over the left field fence in the seventh after Harris had opened with a double.

Mr. Huff failed to select a shortstop.

BY LAWRENCE PERRY

Copied from the Bee

NEW YORK, June 22.—The writer today presents the all middle western baseball nine as selected for him by the eminent George Huff, director of athletics and baseball coach at the University of Illinois.

Michigan: Pitcher, William; Catcher, Blott; First base, Michigan; Pitcher, Caster. Notre Dame: firstbase, Shackelford. Michigan: secondbase, Helstrom, Illinois: thirdbase, Hicks, Iowa: firstfield, Hoel, Illinois: centerfield, Rock, Illinois: leftfield, Klee, Ohio State.

Mr. Huff failed to select a shortstop.

Yale track men who have been fighting for a change in the handling of track affairs at New Haven, are found to have won but a partial victory so far as the season of 1924 is concerned. Coaching appointments for the ensuing year place John Mack, as head coach with New Meridian, as his assistants.

Thompson is now located at the University of West Virginia as track coach and some surprise may be felt at Morgantown over the Yale announcement. So far as the writer knows it is the first time Yale has employed a coach from a sister University in a major sport, except of course, when she took Leader from the University of Washington to coach the crew.

Rod Comstock, who did not well with the weightmen this year, has not been retained and some of those who have admired his work at New Haven have expressed regret that the Eli authorities have shown little recognition of it.

There is the feeling in some quarters at New Haven that the showing of Merriam and Comstock in defeat, in Princeton and Harvard in the dual meets and making so fine a record in the Intercollegiate entitled them to gratitude and to substantial recognition.

John Mack was away from the university this spring through illness and was unable to work with the track team. He has done great service for Yale in the past and those who conduct athletic affairs at New Haven believe that he has yet much more to give.

FRANCE AHEAD BY TWO MATCHES

(By The Associated Press)
DUBLIN, June 22.—France tonight lead Ireland two matches to one in their second round Davis Cup tie and the visiting lawn tennis experts need but one victory in tomorrow's singles to win. The successful team will meet Switzerland in the upper bracket semi-final of the European zone competition.

J. Brugan and R. Lacoste of the French team, defeated the Hon. Cecil Campbell and S. F. Scroop of Ireland, 6-2, 6-3, 14-12 in the doubles today.

WM. S. HART BACK TO SCREEN

(By Chicago Tribune Service)
NEW YORK, June 22.—William S. Hart will return to the screen immediately as a Paramount star. Announcement of this was made today by Adolph Zukor, president of the Famous Players Lasky Corporation. This followed the signing late yesterday of a contract whereby the western film star will make a series of productions on which work will start at once in the Lasky studio. The first Hart picture probably will be released this coming winter. Present plans call for four Hart pictures a year. His last picture was "Travelling On," released in March, 1922.

Virginia State Golf Association Tourney Will Begin On July 3rd

The thirteenth annual tournament of the Virginia State Golf Association will be held at Hot Springs, beginning July 3rd, and continuing through until July 7th. It is expected that most of the Virginia golf clubs will participate seeking either team or individual honors. Whether or not the Danville club will be represented has not been definitely determined. Danville did not participate last year, one reason being the desire on the part of so many of the local club members to go to White Sulphur Springs in August for the tournaments which are held there and the inability of many of the playing members to give up two weeks to golf at such short notice. Entry fees must be posted by next Wednesday, June 27th, by S. M. Newton, secretary of the Virginia State Golf Association at Richmond.

The individual matches will be features of the tournament this year instead of honors for the teams of six from each club. There will be golf for everybody, and those disqualified in the early rounds will have later opportunities to shine in a special series of matches. Every effort is being made this year to interest the women golf players in their tournament which will begin on July 4th. In addition to cups offered for low medal scores the winner of the tournament and the runner up, there will be handsome prizes for the winners in matches between the defeated players.

The playing schedule follows:
Tuesday, July 3rd:
9 a. m.—Qualifying round, 36 holes medal play. The lowest sixteen qualify for championship flight.

The second, third, fourth or more sixteens qualify and play for prizes.
3 p. m.—Women's putting championship, 36 holes. Prizes awarded first, second and third low medal scores.
Wednesday, July 4th:
9 a. m.—Qualifying round, women, 18 holes medal play. The lowest sixteen scores qualifying for the championship flight. The other sixteen qualify for prizes.
9 a. m.—First round, Match Play, men, 18 holes.
Thursday, July 5th:
9 a. m.—Second round, match play, 18 holes.
9 a. m.—First round, match play, women, 18 holes.
9 a. m.—First round, defeated eight.
8 p. m.—At Casino, annual meeting, Virginia State Golf Association.
Friday, July 6th:
9 a. m.—Semi-Finals, 18 holes.
9 a. m.—Second round, women, 18 holes.
Saturday, July 7th:
9 a. m.—Finals, 36 holes, all flights, morning round.
9 a. m.—Semi-Finals, women, 18 holes.
2 p. m.—Afternoon round, all flights.
5 p. m.—At Casino, presentation of all prizes, music.
It was learned today that a handsome $1,000 silver trophy is being offered to the winning club in the tournament. This has been given by Schwarzschild Brothers and will be the perpetual property of the association remaining in the custody of the winning club for the year.

Durham Shut Out Raleigh 4 To 0

RALEIGH, June 22.—Durham shut out Raleigh here today, 4 to 0 in a pitcher's duel between Stittler and Waldrop.
Waldrop went for five frames without giving up a hit but two safeties in the sixth resulted in two runs, with another added on hits in the next inning. The chief trouble with the Raleigh twirler seemed to be his wildness, issuing six passes, which coupled with timely hitting by the Bulls resulted in his downfall.
Benson and Carey, opposing key-stone sackers, led the hitting and played a nice brand of ball in the field, being credited with six and five put-outs, respectively.

Eruption Enters Erratic Stage

Alternating Periods of Increase and Decrease in Activity of Mt. Etna.

(By The Associated Press)
ROME, June 23.—The eruption of Mt. Etna has entered an erratic stage with alternating periods of increase and decrease in its activity. The flow of lava towards Linguicosa is continuing but has slowed down to so great a degree that at the present rate it would be weeks before the town was reached.

MELLON VISIT ABROAD CAUSES WILD RUMORS

PARIS, June 22.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's visit to Europe is awaited with the greatest interest everywhere and the wildest and most conflicting rumors are afloat as to the probable result.

Some insist that Mr. Mellon is acting in an agreement with Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin of England to settle the reparations question and others declare he is coming to negotiate continental debts.

I understand important official personages are already arranging appointments for Mr. Mellon for most important French officials. The same is true in England, Germany, Belgium and Italy.

The French press asserts that Lord Robert Cecil has intimated to Wilhelmstrasse that a solution to the Ruhr problem is imminent after Mr. Mellon arrives, which is the reason, Chancellor Cuno is maintaining the passive resistance and financiers are holding out despite the downward plunge of the mark.

All five arraigned pleaded not guilty and were admitted to bail.

NOW IS THE TIME TO GET IN OPEN AS MOTOR-CAMPER

(Special to The Bee.)

THE night's rest is the keynote of success in motor-camping. If it is poor—then the tourist goes home disgusted or takes to the hotel. If it is refreshing, then the rest of the game is pretty sure to be delightful. There is a tendency among the newcomers to the sport to take along any old kind of shake-down. This is wrong. There is no need to tought it.

There are so many kinds of beds for camping that it would take a volume to write them. One of the simplest affairs is the folding army cot, quite satisfactory if it is made up correctly and provision taken for keeping cold from coming up through. The various steel frame beds with springs which set up on the running board of the car are comfortable.

Air Mattress Popular.
One very comfy type of bed is the air mattress, made of rubber and encased in a cloth envelope. This is blown up to the desired pressure at night and carried deflated in a small roll while on the road. It makes an admirable thing to rest upon when camped in the open. It has adequate warmth between the mattress and the sleeper.

One of the newest ideas is the bed which slides inside the car, usually made with a wood frame with canvas stretched upon it. For two adults this makes a fine bed, and, of course, as weather-proof as the car itself permits. It appeals to many owing to the fact that it is high above the ground.

The sleeping bag, of many types, while primarily designed for sleeping on the ground, can be used successfully on a cot or other bed. The sleeper cannot get uncovered in the night; it has that advantage. It has another good point, too, in its remarkable warmth.

As To Covers.
Mattresses for camping are much thinner than the house type, generally about two inches thick and filled with cotton or silk floss. A mattress must be used with the spring type bed and is also a welcome addition to a cot or sleeping bag. The trailers usually come equipped with both springs and mattresses.

The big point in the comfort of any bed used in the outdoors is the covering. Warm woolen blankets are a necessity—and plenty of them. While the summer days are hot—the nights outside can be uncomfortably cold owing to fog and dampness. If the sleeper is cold—no matter how wonderful his bed may be, he will suffer agony and his trip be spoiled.

The next article of this series discusses the kitchen outfit.

COMMANDER OF BRITISH PRAISES TROOPS OF U. S.

BOSTON, June 22.—The saga of the first volunteer troops of the United States to arrive at the front in France—a regiment of engineers recruited from the operating staffs of the New England railroads—has just been written. It is entitled "A History of the 14th Engineers, United States Army, from May 1917, to May, 1918," and dedicated "To the Memory of those members of the regiment who died in France."

Incorporated in the volume is tribute to these 1,200 railway men of New England by General Aymer Halldame, who commanded the 6th British Corps while the 14th Engineers were attached to that body from August, 1917, to May, 1918. The British referred to their allies affectionately as "The 14th American R. E.'s (Royal Engineers)."

At the time the 14th Engineers came under my command our failure to recognize earlier the urgent need for light railways was being repaired, but the personnel necessary to operate them was lacking," General Halldame writes. "The arrival, however, of our comrades from across the Atlantic speedily changed the aspect of affairs in this respect, and soon in many directions railways were carrying men, supplies and material from the railroad at Boileux-aumont to the vicinity of the forward trenches."

The 16th British Corps at that time was holding the line just south of Arras. Early in 1918 came the tremendous effort of the Germans to break through the British line and reach the sea. The 6th Corps bore its full share of the brunt those March and April days. Of the part played in this activity by the 14th Engineers, General Halldame writes: "The oncoming wave of Germans bore down for a time all endeavors to oppose it, and what at length it was brought to a standstill the light railways on the front of the corps, from railroad to the forward trenches had changed hands. Now was the opportunity for the 14th Engineers who at this critical moment proved that while they could operate railways with all the skill required, they could as readily handle a rifle and share in the greater dangers of the firing line. I can vividly recall my chief engineer, Brigadier-General Harvey, reporting to me how stubbornly the 14th Engineers had taken part with the British infantry in helping to stem the onrush of the German troops, and my pride in having those gallant New Englanders under my command."

The regiment included two companies from the Boston and Maine Railroad and other smaller New England lines, two from the New York, New Haven and Hartford, and one each from the Maine Central and Boston and Albany. The lieutenant colonel was Albert T. Perkins, a railroad executive from the Middle West, and the battalion commanders Major E. W. Gunn, bridge engineer of the Boston and Maine, and Major D. S. Brigham, then trainmaster of the Boston and Albany.

SURPRISE TO WASHINGTON

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 22.—The sudden halting of the Baltic's supply of liquor was a surprise to Treasury officials here who immediately took steps to ascertain the cause. Assistant Secretary Moss and under Secretary Gilbert said no order commanding yesterday's instructions had gone forward from the capital.

Richmond People May Get Fortune

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 22.—In support of its application for a rehearing in the North Carolina par collection bank check cases the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Va., today filed in the Supreme court a petition in which it declared that the conclusions of the court would have been modified had it taken into consideration certain aspects of this case which do not seem to have been considered in rendering the opinion. The petition further asserted that there are certain statements made in the opinion, the effect of which is not clear to the respondent (the Federal Reserve Bank) and regarding which the respondent feels that it is entitled to be heard in order that it may be fully conversant with its rights in the premises.

EASY VICTIMS

(From the Ohio State Journal.)
In the list of easy victims in which entrants already include the person who robs a blind man of his pennies, the one who steals a baby's milk and a few other well-known characters, must now be added the man who swindles a Russian Grand Duchess. If the award were to be made today, this last entrant would stand a good chance of winning the title.

There are few people in the world today so pitifully circumstanced as the exiled members of the Russian nobility. Highly cultured, but without training or experience of any practical value, many of them exhausted by suffering, they are now thrown penniless into a world which they do not understand. In spite of these and other handicaps, many of them have won livings and respect by assuming menial positions and learning how to work. The stories of Grand Dukes and Duchesses who have been discovered as waiters in various large cities are common and well verified. The little fortune that any of them have been able to bring away from the wreckage of former grandeur, is generally in jewels, the disposal of which to the best advantage is not an easy matter. This renders them an easy prey to unscrupulous adventurers, as in the case of the sister of the Czar, who has been able to obtain a verdict in the English courts against two promotion thieves.

Any man with merely a shred of decency in his composition would be glad of the opportunity to help these unfortunate exiles in their painful process of readjustment.

Badly Burned Child Leaves Hospital With New Skin Growth After Grafting

"Little Zip" is leaving Edmunds hospital today after a stay there of six months, permanently cured, it is believed, after undergoing a series of skin grafting operations which have been successful. "Little Zip's" real name is May Zipperman, eight-year-old daughter of W. L. Zipperman, of Witt, but she won a nickname at an early stage of her stay in the hospital while she became one of the most beloved of the patients.

It was in January that the child fell into the fire at her home. She was brought to Danville in a terrible condition and there was small hope for her. Virtually her entire abdomen had been seared so badly as to leave no chance of the skin growing back. Skin was given by a relative and piece by piece these human cultures were rooted in the burned area until it had been covered. It then was necessary to keep the child quiet for months in order that the culture might grow. The recuperative powers in nearly every little child served her in good stead and the series of operations proved successful. She had recently been able to get about and she paid friendly visits to others in the hospital and soon came to be looked upon as a ray of sunshine. There was genuine regret today that "Little Zip" had left the hospital in the hearts of those officials a warm affection has been established. It was learned from an outside source today that the child's treatment during the six months that she remained in the hospital was afforded without charge. "Little Zip" being one of a large family living in the county.

HODGES-HIGHTOWER

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Monday at nine o'clock at Prospect Hill, Caswell county, when Mrs. Clara Mabel Hightower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hightower, was married to Howard Price Hodges, formerly of Caswell but now of Washington, D. C. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. F. Nix at the home of the bride, Miss Mary Hightower, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Herbert Hodges, brother of the groom was best man. Little Edith Wilkinson was the ring bearer, preceding the bride party to the altar before which the ceremony was performed. Miss Myrtle Wilkinson played the wedding marches, Miss Lula Compton singing "At Dawning" and "I love you Truly." A reception followed the wedding, after which the bride and groom left for Atlanta City and other northern cities, where they will spend their honeymoon before taking up residence in Washington, where the groom is connected with the Baltimore and Ohio Railway company.

Good Morning Judge!

This morning's session of the police court was another brief one, the docket being unusually small. White is being held for the theft of a bicycle from Nat Newton. The youth is a minor and will be tried in the juvenile court.

The case of Harvey Rhyner, charged by S. J. West with the theft of a lot of shirts, valued at $25, was continued because of the fact that neither Rhyner or West was present.

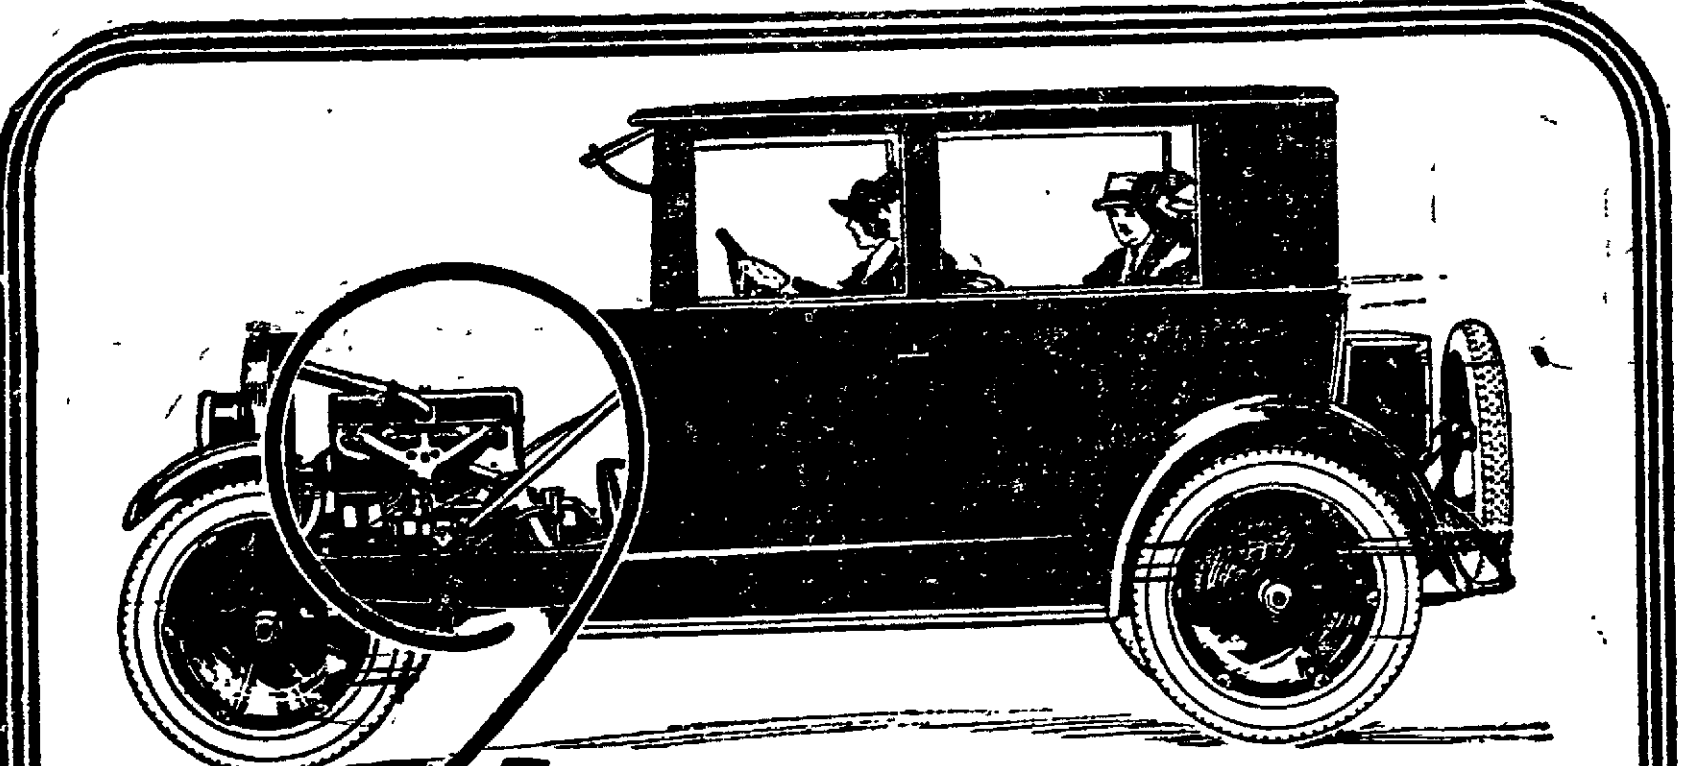

Little Estee, colored, was not present to answer a charge of operating an ill-governed house. The warrant was handed to an officer who was instructed to lock her up. The warrant against Zenora Street, colored, charged also with operating a disorderly house was destroyed. It was said that the filling out of the warrant was unintentional.

Why do Oakland Engines keep running so smoothly?

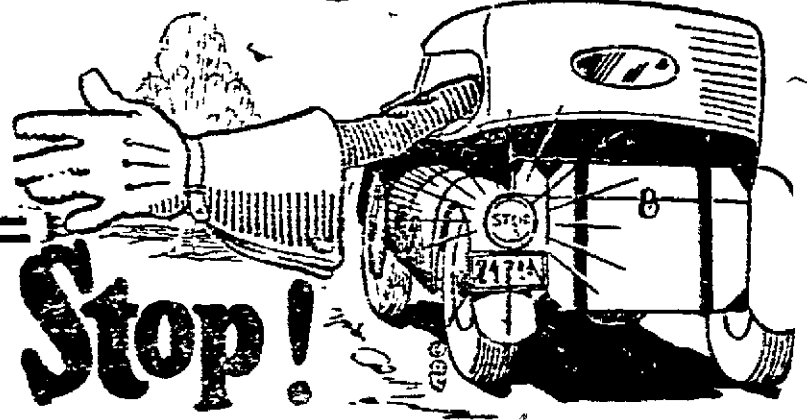

LISTEN to an Oakland 6-44 engine that has delivered twenty thousand miles of service! Its smooth and silent flow of power amazes you! What is the reason? Sturdy crankshaft and connecting rods of the finest metals! Costly patented bronze-backed bearings! Lightest of moving parts reducing vibration to the minimum! A pressure feed lubrication system constantly bathing moving parts in oil! Cylinders honed to the smoothness of glass! And above all—accuracy and precision in manufacture. Drive a year-old Oakland—and you'll understand why Oakland's "Mileage Basis" gauge is such a true representation of real quality.

Women Spoil Their Natural Beauty by Imitating Other Women's Charms. Originality is the Cardinal Charm, Says Florenz Zeigfeld, Jr., and He Ought to Know.

By FLORENZ ZEIGFELD, Jr.

IT'S amazing to see how few women there are in the world who have faces of their own.

That's because, in faces as in other things, the majority of women follow the herd. They don't realize current styles in expressions don't necessarily suit them, and so, when it's the fashion to look bored, to have a Cupid's bow mouth that is painted bright scarlet, to look drowsy, they all follow the fad.

Walk up the boulevard in any town any afternoon. See the women who have just come from their boudoirs, who for the moment at least represent their idea of what they want to look like. You'll find very few of them who have dared to follow the style in faces that should be theirs. You can pick out those who have chosen to look like some successful actress, or some famous beauty. Let a woman who is much in the public eye appear with her hair drawn back from her face, long earrings dangling from her ears, her mouth drooping, her face ivory white. Perhaps that's the style that suits her—but half the women who adopt it are mere walking caricatures of her, and cartoons of themselves.

The beauty is the woman who does not spoil her looks by conforming too closely to custom.

In my work producing big musical shows and the Ziegfeld Follies, I am constantly on the lookout for girls who have originality, and nowhere is this more apparent than in their faces. No matter how pretty a girl may naturally be, if she comes to apply for work with her face made up so that she thinks it's going to look pretty, I'm likely to pass her by for someone else whose looks have more personality.

Let's suppose that you have blue eyes, yellow hair, pretty features. Well, you may belong to any one of half a dozen different types. Unless you find out where you belong, you're going to have no more distinction than do those long strings of paper dolls that can be cut out, fifteen or twenty at a time. You'll be pretty, perhaps, but you won't be a beauty. Your beauty won't be one hundred per cent efficient, if it's to be put into commercial terms.

If you were in New York, I'd say to you: "Go about town a bit, to the theatres and restaurants and clubs where beautiful women can be seen. Study them. Study the blondes; see how they differ. Perhaps there'll be one who cunningly emphasizes her beauty by the color she uses in dressing. If you are her type, see how she does it. Try it at home."

There Are Blondes—and Blondes! She may be a blonde of the type that is always very young looking, babyish in expression, sweet, helpless looking. All right. Probably she'll look her best in soft colors—in blue, pink, in simply make frocks, big, floppy hats. Beginning with that assumption, the girl can develop some originality of appearance by emphasizing her type. This won't make for artificiality, as you might think, because as a usual thing a woman naturally fits into her type. Its manners, its language, its habits of thought, come to her easily. It is only when she tries to ape someone else that she becomes artificial.

Perhaps she's a gray-eyed blonde, whose hair is almost ash colored. Then she is the more intelligent type. She can wear black, effectively, as the French women wear it. She can permit herself little eccentricities of manner. She can exercise great charm, because people will expect it of her. They will endow her with magnetism of manner, because, instinctively, they expect it of her. She will not have the appeal that the babyish blonde will have; not for her are the sweet, candid gaze, the dependent ways. She is irresistible, but in a different way.

Now, surely you can see that if one of these girls tries to fit herself into the other's groove, she is going to lose out. She will be a very square peg in the roundest kind of hole.

These things I know because years of studying women have taught me to classify them almost at a glance. They will have individuality, true enough, but it will be based on certain general types. The girls whom I select for the Ziegfeld "Follies" are of all types; I select them because when they come to me they have already learned to develop their individuality by learning along which lines it must be brought out.

Why Wear a Mask?

You have no doubt seen the masks which of late have been so popular; several dancers have worn them, and have done dances to fit them to express the type of personality represented by the masks. Now, if you belong to one type and try to make yourself into another one, you might just as well be wearing a mask. Furthermore, it will be a mask that won't fit at all.

In arranging the different numbers in the "Follies" in which the girls appear, great care is exercised to pick for each number the girls who are best suited for it. For instance, there may be some of them who aren't at all the fluffy-ruffles type. I can't use them in a song like the "Rambler Rose" number, for instance; they would not fit into it at all. They can't wear clothes of that type, as well as they can wear soft, clinging things.

On the other hand, the girls who are not suited to that number are most effective in one which is differently costumed. Now, that's the way it is in life. There'll be one brunette who is distinctly Italian in type, for example. She can wear hats with drooping coque feathers, clinging black frocks, dark, silky furs. People will have a feeling of satisfaction when they look at her; unconsciously they will have the conviction that she is beautifully gowned. Simply because she has made herself decorative by being suitably dressed, and because her expression fits in with her clothes. Let her act like a vivacious flapper, a brunette of the type that has a tilted nose, dancing eyes, a pouting mouth, and she'll spoil her looks.

Study yourself if you want to be beautiful. That is advice as old as the pyramids, but it's good, nevertheless. And few women realize it. Study your face. Classify it. Then don't try to adopt moods and expressions that don't belong to you. Don't try to wear a face that belongs to someone else. Wear your own, and make the most of it.

In many a town one very popular girl has made herself more attractive, simply because so many less popular girls tried to look like her. They saw that she was receiving a lot of attention, and in their attempt to emulate her they went too far, by trying to look well in the sort of clothes and mannerisms and expressions that perfectly suited her. They tried to put her trademark on themselves.

Beauty Bears Its Own Copyright

If you want to be beautiful, you must have a trademark of your own.

As a rule, foreign women have more courage in this respect than American women have. They dare to look like themselves. Until you decide to do that, you are going to waste some of the looks that are naturally yours. No matter how pretty you may be, you won't be as pretty as you might be; it's doubtful whether you'll ever attain real beauty or not.

But if you wear your own face, and know how to do it, you'll achieve results that will surprise you.

American women have suffered in the past from lack of originality, so far as their beauty was concerned. They were not afraid to wear clothes that expressed the spirit of novelty, nor did they fear coiffures that were unusual, but they had conventional faces. That is, they made a desperate effort to look like the reigning beauties of the day.

Nowadays the younger women, at least, dare to depart from prevailing styles. If you will study the photographs of the Ziegfeld "Follies" girls, you will see that they do not conform to any one type, that they realize that one's girl's beauty may be another's disfigurement.

To expect Helen Lee Worthing to look like Naomi Johnson, and then demand that the other girls look like her, would of course be absurd. Yet women in general are likely to do just exactly that. Instead of selecting a famous beauty who is so their own type and then adapting her coiffure and expression, they just select anybody who has been proclaimed a beauty and then try to wear that girl's face. It won't work!

There is a new "Follies" girl, Blossom Vreeland, the niece of a famous beauty of some years ago. She is now in the chorus. She has been brought up to be a "Follies" girl, by her aunt, who feels that that is the first step in the career which she desires for her niece.

She Grew Into Beauty Miss Vreeland is studying dancing, singing, art. She will some day be a prima donna. If she shows the improvement that is expected of her.

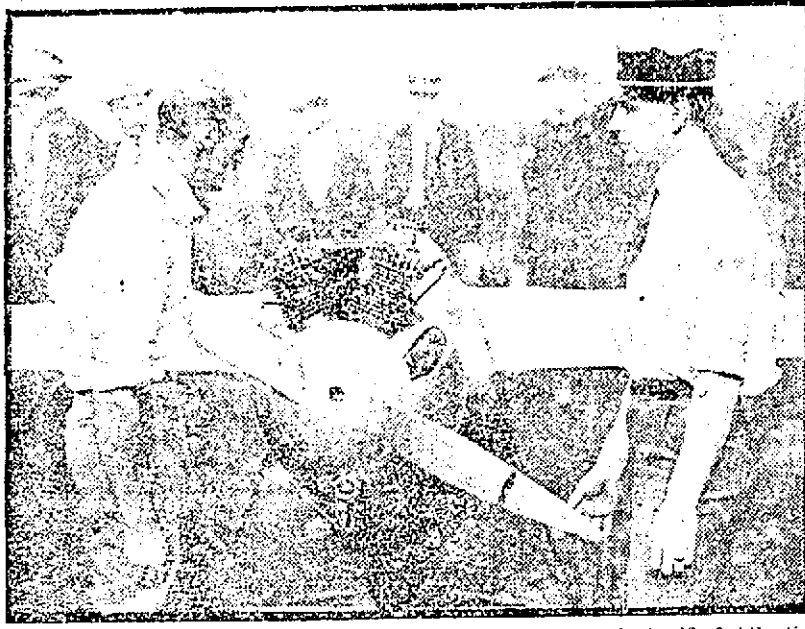

This beautiful girl was not brought up to conform to a type not suited to her. She grew into beauty, of an unusual order, because she was not brought up to try to look like anyone else. Her aunt recognized her type, and cultivated the girl's beauty to conform to it.

Have the courage of your convictions! There are just about so many types of beauty in the world, and you'll find that you come in under one of those general headings. You may not care for it; you may wish that you were a languid brunette instead of a peppery one.

But don't let that make any difference. Wear your own face, your own manners, your own coloring. You'll achieve distinction of your own, instead of merely aping that of someone else.

BUILDING PERMITS

SHOWING REACTION

PITTSBURGH, June 22.—Building permits issued recently in this section are showing a reaction from the high figures reached earlier in the year. For the first half of June, 70 permits for dwellings were issued here compared with a total of 193 for May. Records show a lack of commercial and industrial construction on any large scale. This is attributed to the high costs of labor and materials.

REFUSAL TO GRANT

WAGE INCREASES

MINNEAPOLIS, June 22.—Refusal by the Twin cities rapid transit company to grant wage increases to carmen has been followed by an active campaign by organizers of the street railway union to mobilize the Twin Cities workers. President Lowry, in commenting on the refusal of the company to increase the pay from $3 to 50 cents an hour, declared the increase was not justified by company earnings.

NET INCOME STREET

RAILWAY ANNOUNCED

DETROIT, Mich., June 22.—The net income of the Detroit Street railway was $73,114, last month after sinking fund and interest reductions. Gross revenue from transportation was $1,782,166 an average daily increase of $37.60 over the preceding month. Operating expenses were $1,332,389. The total car miles operated was 4,304,337 an increase of 232,769.

Increase your mileage from 10,000 to 12,000 miles without removing the wonderful tube from the wheel and the beauty of it all is that this new puncture-proof tube costs no more than the ordinary tube and makes riding a real pleasure. You can write Mr. M. C. Milburn at 333 West 47th St., Chicago, as he wants them introduced everywhere. Wonderful opportunity for agents. If interested write him today.—adv.

DECLARES MARINE MEN OVER EAT

LONDON, June 22.—Captain Selwyn Day is one of the best known of the mercantile marine officers and an A. D. C. to the king. He has been all through the mill at sea, and he says that the trouble with the officers on the big Atlantic steamers now-a-days, from captains down, is that they eat more than is good for them. "Apprentices and junior officers in the passenger ships of today," he asserts, "all eat too rich food, too often, and in too large quantities. Consequently, as they have no real physical labor to perform, at least 40 per cent. of them are physically unfit. The great need of the service is for physical training and an adequate course in practical seamanship. There is much more need of these things than for insistence on a higher educational standard."

BOX MANUFACTURING

BUSINESS IS BOOMING

BY HYMAN COHEN

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 22.—The Box Manufacturing business in the Pacific northwest is better than it has ever been according to leading manufacturers here. Prices are high, lumber is scarce and orders are piling up at the local box factories. This demand, it is believed, is caused by the expectation of an extremely heavy fruit crops this year. The demand is not confined to the section, however, for the eastern orders are heavy and export business is picking up.

OFFICIALS WILL CARRY OUT THEIR INSTRUCTIONS

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Treasury officials, without information to night concerning the ship liquor situation in New York, declared it was assumed here that the New York port authorities would carry out their instructions to seize liquors brought by foreign steamships under seal into American territorial waters. Failure of the customs officials to seize the stores aboard the Liners Baltic and Berengaria today was due solely, it was believed, to natural delays incident to government administration of law.

Early in the day, Assistant Collector Stuart, of the port of New York, inquired of the Treasury by telephone whether there were further instructions. He was advised that none were needed; that the policy framed yesterday and communicated to all port agents stood.

The assumption at the Treasury is that the port officers will make the physical seizure of the contraband liquor aboard the liners when necessary arrangements are made. The arrival at New York today of the Baltic with beverage liquors created no stir at the Treasury, officials merely saying, when informed of the ship's appearance that she, instead of the Berengaria, would be the first to feel the ironclad rule against sea stores of liquor.

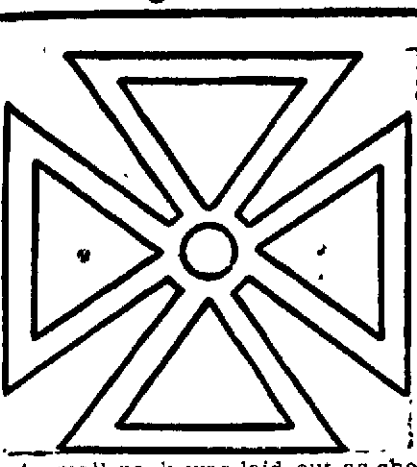

GODCHAUX WILL

(By The Associated Press)

ROEBUCK COUNTRY CLUB.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 22.—Frank Godchaux and Perry Adair

Daily Puzzle

A small park was laid out as shown in the diagram, the distance around each triangular path being just one mile. Four men started walking, one around each path. One walked at two miles an hour, another at three, a third at four, and the fourth at five miles an hour. Each kept walking around his path. They started at nine o'clock in the morning. At what time did they all meet at the center point?

Yesterday's answer:

The problem of dividing $7000 among three servants, in proportion to each one's length of service, the butler having served three times as long as the cook, and the chauffeur twice as long as the butler, is solved thus:

A close study shows that the chauffeur served six times as long as the cook, and the butler three times as long as the cook. Thus the legacy should be divided into ten portions, of $700 each, of which the chauffeur received six—$4200—the butler three—$2100—and the cook one—$700.

will meet tomorrow in the finals for the championship of the twenty-first annual amateur tournament of the Southern Golf Association.

Adair won his way into the finals by defeating H. G. Seibels of Birmingham, the Alabama state champion, five and four, while Godchaux eliminated Al Ulmer of Jacksonville, four three champion of Florida, by the margin of 2 up, the match ending on the home green.
